

UMCOR RESPONDS TO TORNADOES

After an unusually slow start to the 2013 US tornado season, a series of violent tornadoes cut through communities from Texas to Minnesota. Especially hard hit were Granbury, Texas, and Shawnee and Moore, Oklahoma. The storms left whole neighborhoods in rubble and the lives of survivors upended.

www.umcor.org

Front: Following deadly tornadoes in Oklahoma, student Olivia Coil lights a candle during a prayer vigil in the Angie Smith Chapel at Oklahoma City University, the only UM-related university in the state.

Photo courtesy Amelia Ballew, Oklahoma Annual Conference via UMNS.

Left: Volunteers work at the St. Andrews Red Cross Relief Center set up supplies inside the buildings of St. Andrew United Methodist Church in Oklahoma City.

Photo courtesy of Kim McKinley and Susan Robinson, St. Andrew's UMC via UMNS.

One hundred percent of your gift to US Disaster Response, Advance #901670 supports relief in the affected communities today and recovery over the months and years to come. This advance enables UMCOR to respond to immediate needs such as food, water, emergency shelter, and relief supplies, and also supports survivors' long-term recovery needs, including the rebuilding of homes and disaster case management.

Help UMCOR rebuild lives in Texas and Oklahoma. Please give generously.

US Disaster Response, Advance #901670

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God.

2 Corinthians 1:3-4 (NSRV)

www.umcor.org

Front: Following deadly tornadoes in Oklahoma, student Olivia Coil lights a candle during a prayer vigil in the Angie Smith Chapel at Oklahoma City University, the only UM-related university in the state.

Photo courtesy Amelia Ballew, Oklahoma Annual Conference via UMNS.

Left: Volunteers work at the St. Andrews Red Cross Relief Center set up supplies inside the buildings of St. Andrew United Methodist Church in Oklahoma City.

Photo courtesy of Kim McKinley and Susan Robinson, St. Andrew's UMC via UMNS.

One hundred percent of your gift to US Disaster Response, Advance #901670 supports relief in the affected communities today and recovery over the months and years to come. This advance enables UMCOR to respond to immediate needs such as food, water, emergency shelter, and relief supplies, and also supports survivors' long-term recovery needs, including the rebuilding of homes and disaster case management.

Help UMCOR rebuild lives in Texas and Oklahoma. Please give generously.

US Disaster Response, Advance #901670

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God.

2 Corinthians 1:3-4 (NSRV)

www.umcor.org

UMCOR RESPONDS TO TORNADOES

After an unusually slow start to the 2013 US tornado season, a series of violent tornadoes cut through communities from Texas to Minnesota. Especially hard hit were Granbury, Texas, and Shawnee and Moore, Oklahoma. The storms left whole neighborhoods in rubble and the lives of survivors upended.

www.umcor.org